

Parrot Training Academy

Parrot Life Behaviour and Training are excited to introduce our series of comprehensive parrot training workshops, together dubbed the 'Parrot Training Academy'!

This series allows you to choose the level you would like to start, and the level you want to advance to. To suit busy schedules, workshops can be completed all at once or at different times. They are designed to suit a range of different skill levels—from first time companion parrot owners, to those who work with animals professionally such as behaviour consultants, keepers and those that work in the veterinary professions. If you want to broaden your understanding of parrot behaviour, learn how to train and correct problem behaviours, and get hands on training time with a variety of parrots, then this academy is for you!
