Championships are Heating Up....

SCOTT GREGORY, remember the name, he could be Toowong's new singles champion.

The former Norfolk Island player, who is now settled at Kenmore, became a new member about the same time as the singles entries were closing.

His first four outings were singles championship affairs and he has won the lot to reach the final, culminating in a 25-5 upset semi-final defeat of two-time winner Robbie Rimes last Saturday.

Scott backed up in the afternoon in the pairs championship with Mike Murphy as a late replacement for Ed Richardson, but his great winning run ended when the pair fell 33-11 to the powerful Chris Hassen-Doug Pannell combination.

In another vital singles match that went right down to the wire, John Arrowsmith kept his chances of a second successive title alive with a heart stopping 25-24 defeat of Alan Keighley. Alan led 9-0 and then John replied with 13-0 before it was all locked up at 24-all. Alan produced two touchers on the last end but it was not good enough to stave off John's winning bowl.

John now faces Val Scolaro in what promises to be a high-class semi-final with both players in sound form.

In a pairs championship shock, Jim Pope and Peter Jordan beat Des Baglin and Robbie Rimes on an extra end after the score had been 22-all after 21 ends. Robbie held what appeared likely to be the winning shot on the extra end but Jim produced a bottler of a bowl to grab the shot.

Bill Mills and Val Scolaro continued on their winning way with a 32-10 whitewash of Jim Adams and David Falkenmire. It was close at 10-6 after nine ends before Bill and Val, who both bowled superbly, scored a match-defining seven. They were unstoppable after that and should now provide tough semi-final opposition for titleholders Piotr Malicki and John Arrowsmith.

DISTRICT SINGLES

Congratulations to Des Baglin on reaching the quarter-finals at Enoggera on Sunday. He beat Col Albert, of Windsor, 25-16 before falling 25-21 to Geoff Jensen, of New Farm, in the quarter-final.

Alan Keighley and Piotr Malicki both bowed out in the round of 16 after first-round victories.
