

PREMIER SEVENS COMPETITION

A bleak weekend for Terriers

There was no joy for the Terriers in the second round of Premier Sevens with 2-1 home losses to Windsor and Salisbury, and a 3-0 away loss to Ipswich City.

John Arrowsmith gave Div 1 a great start against with a comfortable 31-23 singles win over Ray Bax and at that stage both the pairs and fours were locked in tight contests.

But unfortunately both results went against Toowong, with Doug and Robbie pipped 21-18 in a last-end pairs thriller and Piotr's new-look fours team being shaded 20-14 in a promising display.

In the Div 1 Over-60s, after Barry Ward had given Salisbury a strong start with a 31-13 singles win over a gallant Lloyd Lyndon, Toowong had control of the fours and the pairs was in the balance.

Des Denino skipped Peter Jordan, Brian Vandersee and Alistair McKay to a solid 23-17 fours win but Jim Adams and Gary Andrews fell just short, 16-14, in a high quality pairs clash.

A big thanks to Mary Cleghorn and Carol Hurst for acting as markers at short notice.

It doesn't get any easier for our Div 1 teams this weekend with home games against South Toowoomba and South Tweed respectively.

It was a tough morning at the office for Toowong's Div 3 team against titleholders Ipswich City on a slowish green at picturesque Queens Park.

After striking hot opposition in the singles (31-13) and pairs (30-13), the fours team of Speare, Pope, Gray and Falkenmire gave Toowong a glimmer of hope of a rink win. They led 8-1 but two dropped fives told the story in a 21-15 loss.
