Our Trainers

Our Trainer/Assessors are qualified and dedicated professionals who have current industry experience and qualifications in a range of industries. Their industry experience is continually up to date by participation in professional development activities, therefore giving our students the best practical industry experience.

At Absolute Forklift Training we deliver a nationally accredited qualification via training face-to-face and in the workplace. When you study with Absolute Forklift Training, your trainer Assessor will always be there to assist you throughout your course. You can either attend a classroom training environment, or receive job visits and even phone or email your Trainer/Assessor for advice which means you get support you need when you need it.

Absolute Forklift Training trainers are all professionally qualified trainers and have personal industry and job role experience. Our trainers deliver their training in a way the students will enjoy.

Our Expectation of you

Absolute Forklift Training expects you:

- To contribute to learning in a harmonious and positive manner irrespective of gender, race, sexual preference, political affiliation, marital status, disability or religious belief.
- To comply with the rules and regulations of Absolute Forklift Training.
- To be honest and respectful, this includes not falsifying work or information and not conducting yourself in any way that may cause injury or offence to others.
- To be responsible for your own learning and development by participating actively and positively and by ensuring that you maintain progress with learning modules.
- To monitor your own progress by ensuring that assessment deadlines are observed.
- To utilise facilities and Absolute Forklift Training publications with respect and to honour our copyrights and prevent our publication from being distributed to unauthorised persons.
- To respect other students and Absolute Forklift Training staff members and their right to privacy and confidentiality.

You're Safety

Absolute Forklift Training is committed to providing you a safe environment in which to participate in training and assessment. We are aware under the Work Health and Safety Act 2011 of our responsibilities to maintain a safe environment.

The following guidelines are provided as a basis for safe practice in the training environment:

- Know and observe details of emergency response and evacuation plans.
- Do not undertake activities which may cause injury to self or others.
- Be responsible for your own actions.
- No smoking in the training and assessment facilities or offices.
- Report all potential hazards, accidents and near misses to the RTO staff.
- No consumption of alcohol within training and assessment facilities or during the conduct of training and assessment.
- Keep training and assessment areas neat and tidy at all times.
- Seek assistance if you volunteer to lift items e.g. moves furniture in a training area.
- Observe hygiene standards particularly in eating and bathroom areas

Electrical equipment

- Electrical equipment that is not working should be reported to Absolute Forklift Training staff.
- Electrical work should only be performed by appropriately licensed or trained personnel. Students, trainers and assessors should not undertake any task related to fixing electrical equipment such as lighting or electrical training aids.

Fire Safety

- Absolute Forklift Training will undertake to communicate the procedures involved in evacuation and the location of fire equipment to students at each facility for each training and assessment event; and to users of the office at least twice each year.
- All users of a training and assessment facility need to be familiar with the location of all EXITS and fire extinguishers. Users will consult available maps to determine location.
- It is the user's responsibility to understand fire drill procedures displayed around the premises.
- Users are asked to attend any sessions on fire safety procedures and the use of fire safety devices.

First Aid

- Provision for first aid facilities are available where training is delivered.
- All accidents must be reported to staff.
- The accident and any aid administered must be recorded by staff involved, in the injury register.

Lifting

- Students, trainer and assessors are encouraged not to lift anything related to the training and assessment provided by Absolute Forklift Training unless they do so voluntarily and taking all responsibility for any injury caused.
- Never attempt to lift anything that is beyond your capacity.
- Always bend the knees and keep the back straight when picking up items.
- If you have experienced back problems in the past do not attempt to lift heavy objects at all. Ask someone else to do it for you.

Work and Study Areas

- Always ensure that all work areas are clean and clear of clutter to avoid the danger of an accident by tripping or falling over.
- Place all rubbish in the bins provided.
- Ensure that bench spaces are left clean and tidy.
- Do not sit or climb on any desks or tables.

You're Equity

Absolute Forklift Training is committed to ensuring that the training and assessment environment is free from discrimination and harassment. All Absolute Forklift Training staff members (including contractors) are aware that discrimination and harassment will not be tolerated under any circumstances. In the event that discrimination and harassment is found to have occurred disciplinary action will be taken against any staff member who breaches this policy. Suspected criminal behaviour will be reported to police authorities immediately. Students should expect fair and friendly behaviour from Absolute Forklift Training staff members and we apply complaint handling procedures advocated by the Australian Human Rights and Equal Opportunity Commission (HREOC).

Students should note that these records cannot be taken away unless a copy is requested. Where photocopies are requested, Absolute Forklift Training reserves the right to charge a one-off photocopy fee of $10.00. There is no cost to simply view records at our office.

Continuous Improvement

Absolute Forklift Training is committed to the continuous improvement of our training and assessment services, student services and management systems. Central to this commitment is our approach to continuous improvement and the procedures we apply to achieve systematic and sustained improvement.

Suggesting Improvements

The primary method of reporting opportunities for improvement by students is via the continuous improvement reporting procedure. This procedure allows any person to raise a Continuous Improvement Report for consideration but h Continuous Improvement Committee. Often these reports will be generated after an opportunity for improvement has been identified by a staff member or student. The Continuous Improvement Report template is available on request. Students are encouraged to provide feedback to Absolute Forklift Training so we can improve our services in the future.

Learner Satisfaction Survey

At the completion of your training program, you will be issued with a Learner Satisfaction Survey. This is a nationally consistent survey tool which is designed to collect feedback from students about their experience with an RTO and in undertaking nationally recognised training. Your completion and return of this survey is important to Absolute Forklift training for our ongoing improvement of services and to enable us to report this information to our registering authority. Your assistance in gathering this survey data is greatly appreciated.

Assessment

At Absolute Forklift Training assessment is conducted using a combination of Written Knowledge Assessment, Research Tasks, Case Studies, Work Log Book, Supervisor Feedback and Workplace Observation.

The following provides a brief explanation of the primary assessment methods;

Written Knowledge Assessment: the student is required to provide a written response to a range of questions relating to required knowledge of the units of competency. These would generally be short answer response activities and may include other questioning methods including multiple-choice.

Research Tasks: the student is required to undertake research within their own workplace and the available reference material and provide a written response to each question these assessment activities are usually short to medium answer response activities. The responses provided by the student will largely be specific to their workplace.

Case Study Response: the student is required to provide a written response to a situation presented in a case study scenario. This will usually require the student to consider carefully the situation presented, undertake some research to inform their response and then to propose their recommended actions.

Workplace Log Book: The student is required to record details of their work activity completed during the work placement. These details are recorded against specified tasks which are predesigned for the student to complete. This forms an important part of the assessment evidence as it often includes critical evidence that is otherwise difficult for the assessor to observe.

Supervisor Feedback: The assessor will periodically engage with workplace supervisors to seek their feedback about the students' performance. This is undertaken as an interview with duration of approximately 15 to 20 minutes. This interview can be undertaken over the phone or face to face. Feedback from a supervisor is recorded into the assessment record.

Workplace Observation: The student will be observed performing specific tasks in their day-to-day work activities. The assessor will attend the workplace and observe the student performing tasks relevant to the units of competency being assessed. The student will be briefed on their observation activities in events and is required to make arrangements to undertake these activities when the assessor is in attendance at eh workplace.

Re-Assessment

Students who are assessed as not yet competent are to be provided with detailed verbal and written feedback to assist them to identify the gaps in their knowledge and skills to be addressed through further training. These students are to be provided with additional training and learning support to target their specific gaps in knowledge and/or skills and prepare them for additional assessment.

It is policy of Absolute Forklift Training to provide opportunities for additional training and re-assessment at additional cost to the student or employer. Please refer to the current fee schedule to identify the re-assessment fee.

Students requiring additional learning support are to be brought to the attention of Absolute Forklift Training management so the progress of the student can be monitored closely and additional support services can be applied well before it becomes necessary to impose an additional fee for re-assessment. Where students repeatedly do not demonstrate competence following significant learning and assessment support, a student's enrolment can be determined through mutual agreement.

Certification

Students who are assessed as competent in units of competency listed on the scope of registration of Absolute Forklift Training will be issued a Statement of Attainment within 30 days of being assessed as competent and providing all agreed fees the learner owes to Absolute Forklift Training Pty Ltd have been paid. In the vocational education and training sector, a Statement of Attainment is issued by an RTO when an individual has completed one or more units of competency from a nationally recognised qualification or course¹. This requirement is outlined in detail in the Australian Qualifications Framework \(AQF\), Second Edition, 2013.

At Absolute Forklift Training we recognise our responsibility to comply with this requirement in accordance with the Standards for NVR Registered Training Organisations. Specifically, Absolute Forklift Training will issue a statement of attainment to a person it has assessed as competent in accordance with the requirements of the Training Package or accredited course, that: ²

- Meets the AQF requirements;
- Identifies the RTO by its national provider number from the Training.gov.au; and
- Includes the Nationally Recognised Training (NRT) logo in accordance with the current conditions of use.³

Staff with responsibility for preparing certificates for issue must be familiar with the policy outlined on the ASQA website at the following address: ASQA - Issuing qualifications and statements of attainment.

Specific reference should be made to the NQC Special Bulletin regarding implementation of AQF requirements: NQC AQF Special Bulletin. Statements of Attainment issued by Absolute Forklift Training will be generated using RTO Data.

Language, Literacy and Numeracy skills

Language, literacy and numeracy skills are critical to almost all areas of work. This is particularly true in many vocations where language, literacy and numeracy skills influence the performance of workplace tasks such as measuring, weighing and comprehending written work instructions.

To support this approach Absolute Forklift Training will:

- Assess a student's language, literacy and numeracy skills during their enrolment to ensure they have adequate skills to complete the training;
- Support students during their study with training and assessment materials and strategies that are easily understood and suitable to the level of the workplace skills being delivered;
- Provide clear information to students about the details of the language, literacy and numeracy assistance available. Absolute Forklift Training generally recommends the LLN training courses provided by TAFE NSW. These institutes have specialist teachers to support the student's development.
- Refer students to external language, literacy and numeracy support services that are beyond the support available within Absolute Forklift Training and where this level of support is assessed as necessary; and
- Negotiate an extension of time to complete training programs if necessary.

Making Complaints and Appeals

Absolute Forklift Training is committed to providing a fair and transparent complaints and appeals process that includes access to an independent external body if necessary.

What is a complaint?

A complaint is negative feedback about services or staff which has not been resolved locally. A complaint may be received by Absolute Forklift Training in any form and does not need to be formally documented by the complaint in order to be acted on. Complaints may be made by any person but are generally made by students and/or employers.

What is an appeal?

An appeal is an application by a student for reconsideration of an unfavourable decision or finding during training and/or assessment. An appeal must be made in writing and specify the particulars of the decision finding in dispute. Appeals must be submitted to Absolute Forklift Training within 28 days of the student being informed of the assessment decision or finding.

Early Resolution of Complaints and Appeals

In all cases, issues that arise during training and assessment that are the source of frustration or are in dispute should be resolved at the time, as they occur between the persons involved where possible. Sometimes, it will not be possible and in these cases you are encouraged to come forward and inform us of your concerns with the confidence that you will be treated fairly.

Complaint and Appeals Handling

Absolute Forklift Training applies the following principles to its complaints and appeals handling:

- A written record of all complaints and appeals is to be kept by Absolute Forklift Training including all details of lodgement, response and resolution.
- A complaint or person lodging an appeal is to be provided an opportunity to formally present his or her case to minimal or no cost.
- Each complainant or person lodging an appeal may be accompanied and/or assisted by a support person at any relevant meeting
- The handling of a complaint or appeal is to commence within 10 working days of the lodgement of the complaint/appeal and all reasonable measures are taken to finalise the process as soon as practicable. (Within 60 days or inform the complainant why more than 60 days are required and regular updates on the progress of the matter will be given to the complainant).
- The complainant or person lodging an appeal is to be provided a written statement of the outcome, including details of the reasons for the outcome.
- Absolute Forklift Training shall maintain the enrolment of the complainant or person lodging an appeal during the complaint or appeals process.
- Decisions or outcomes of the complaint or appeals process that find in the favour of the student or otherwise shall be implemented immediately.
- Complaints and appeals are to be handled in the strictest of confidence. No Absolute Forklift Training representative is to disclose information to any person without the permission of Absolute Forklift Training Chief Executive Officer. Decisions to release information to third parties are only to be done after the complaint or person lodging the appeal has given permission for this to occur.
- Complaints and appeals are to be considered on the basis of procedural fairness and lead to opportunities for improvement as a Continuous Improvement Report.

Review by External Agency

Where the complaint or person lodging an appeal is not satisfied with the handling of the matter by Absolute Forklift Training, they are to have the opportunity for a body that is independent of Absolute Forklift Training to review his or her complaint or appeal following the internal completion of complaint or appeals process.

Students who are not satisfied with the process applied by Absolute Forklift Training may refer their grievance to the following external agencies:

Unresolved Complaints: may be referred to the Australian Skills Quality Authority – ASQA Online Complaint Form. Students are to be advised that ASQA will require the student to have exhausted all avenues through Absolute Forklift Training internal complaints handling procedure before taking this option.

Unresolved Appeals: In relation to consumer related issues may be referred to the Office of Fair Trading.

Recognition of Your Existing Skills and Knowledge

In accordance with the requirements of the Standards for NVR Registered Training Organisations, Absolute Forklift Training provides the opportunity for students to apply to have prior learning recognised toward a qualification or units of competence for which they are enrolled.

What is Recognition?

Recognition involves the assessment of previously unrecognised skills and knowledge that an individual has achieved outside the formal education and training system. Recognition assesses this unrecognised learning against the requirements of a unit of competence, in respect of both entry requirements and outcomes to be achieved. By removing the need for duplication of learning, recognition encourages an individual to continue upgrading their skills and knowledge through structured education and training towards formal qualifications and improved employment outcomes this has benefits for the individual and industry. Most importantly, it should be noted recognition is just another form of assessment.

Recognition Guidelines

The following guidelines are to be followed when an application for recognition is received:

- Any student is entitled to apply for recognition in a course or qualification in which they are currently enrolled.
- Students may not apply for recognition for units of competence or a qualification which are not included in Absolute Forklift Training scope of registration.
- Whilst students may apply for recognition at any time, they are encouraged to apply before commencing a training program. This will reduce unnecessary training and guide the student down a more efficient path to competence.
- Students who are currently enrolled in a training program are eligible to apply for recognition in that program at no additional charge.
- Assessment via recognition is to apply the principles of assessment and the rules of evidence.
- Recognition may only be awarded for whole units of competence.

Forms of Evidence for Recognition

Recognition acknowledges that workplace skills and knowledge may be gained through a variety of ways including both formal and informal learning or through work-based of life experience.

Like assessment, recognition is process evidence is collected and a judgement is made by an assessor or assessment team. The judgement is made on evidence provided by candidates of the skills and knowledge that they have previously learnt through work, study, life and other experiences, and that they are currently using. It also includes evidence to confirm a candidate's ability to adapt prior learning or current competence to the context of the intended workplace or industry.

Forms of evidence toward recognition may include:

- Work records
- Records of workplace training
- Assessments of current skills
- Assessments of current knowledge
- Third party reports from current and previous supervisors or managers
- Evidence of relevant unpaid or volunteer experience
- Examples of work products
- Observation by an assessor in the workplace
- Performance appraisal or
- Duty statements

Many of these forms of evidence would not be sufficient on their own. When combined together, with a number of evidence items, the candidate will start to provide a strong case for competence. Absolute Forklift Training reserves the right to require candidates to undertake practical assessment activities of skills and knowledge in order to satisfy itself of a candidate's current competence.

What is National Recognition?

National recognition is the recognition of learning achieved through formal education and training. Under the Standards for NVR Registered Training Organisations, qualifications and statements of attainment issued by any RTO are to be accepted and recognised by all other RTOs. National recognition allows a student to be awarded a unit of competency/module based on successful completion of the unit which has been previously awarded.

Evidence Requirements

If you are seeking national recognition you are required to present your statement of attainment or qualification for examination to Absolute Forklift Training. These documents will provide the detail of what units of competence you have been previously issued. You must provide satisfactory evidence that the statement of attainment or qualification is authentic, is yours and that it has been issued by an Australian RTO. Statements of attainment or qualifications should be in the correct format as outlined in the Australian Qualifications framework. You are required to submit copies only which are certified as a true copy of the original.

National Recognition Guidelines

The following guidelines are to be followed in relation to national recognition:

- Any student is entitled to apply for national recognition in a course for qualification in which is currently enrolled.
- Students may not apply for national recognition for units of competence or qualification which are not included in Absolute Forklift Training's scope of registration.
- Whilst students may apply for national recognition at any time, they are encouraged to apply before commencing a training program. This will reduce unnecessary training and guide the student down a more efficient path to competence.

- The student does not incur any fees for national recognition and Absolute Forklift Training does not receive any funding when national recognition is granted.
- National recognition may only be awarded for whole units of competence. Where a mapping guide identifies a partial credit, this will not be considered for national recognition and applicants will be advised to seek recognition.

Legislative and Regulatory Responsibilities

Absolute Forklift Training is required to operate in accordance with the law. This means we comply with the requirements of legislative and regulatory requirements. The following legislation is a list of the Acts that Absolute Forklift Training has recognised it has compliance responsibilities to. They also represent obligations to you as a student whilst training with Absolute Forklift Training.

During your day-to-day work and when participation in training, you will need to be aware of the relevant legislation that may impact your conduct and behaviour.

Copies of State and Federal Legislation can be found on the internet at www.australia.gov.au/state-legislation (State) and www.comlaw.gov.au (Federal).

The following is a summary of the legislation that will generally apply to your day-to-day work and training.

Work Health and Safety Act 2011

The main object of this Act is to provide for a balanced and nationally consistent framework to secure the health and safety of workers and workplaces. The WHS Act protects workers and other persons against harm to their health, safety and welfare through the elimination or minimisation of risks arising from work from particular types of substances or plant.

The WHS Act covers workers by providing a nationally uniform work health and safety laws. This includes employees, contractors, Sub-contractors, outworkers, trainees, work experience students, volunteers and employers who perform work.

The WHS Act also provides protection for the general public so that their health and safety is not placed at risk by work activities.

Section 29 of the WHS Act requires that any person at a workplace, including customers and visitors, must take reasonable care of their own health and safety that of others who may be affected by their actions or omissions.

They must also cooperate with any actions taken by the person conducting business or undertaking to comply with the WHS Act and WHS Regulation.

Privacy Act 1988

The Privacy Act is supported by the Australian Privacy Principles which came into effect on the 12th of March 2014. The object of Australian Privacy Principles is to ensure business and government agencies manage personal information in an open and transparent way.

Review the section within this handbook that relates to privacy protection. It provides you with information about:

- The kinds of personal information that the entity collects and holds;
- How the entity collects and holds personal information;
- The purpose for which the entity collects, holds, uses and discloses personal information;
- How an individual may access personal information about the individual that is held by the entity and seek the correction of such information;
- How an individual may complain about a breach of the Australian Privacy Principles and how the entity will deal with such a complaint; and
- Whether the entity is likely to disclose personal information to overseas recipients.

Disability Discrimination Act 1992

Sect 5 – Disability Discrimination

- (1) For the purpose of this Act, a person (discriminator) discriminates against another person (aggrieved person) on the grounds of a disability of the aggrieved person if, because of the aggrieved person's disability, the discriminator treats or proposes to treat the aggrieved person less favourably than, in circumstances that are the same or are not materially different, the discriminator treats or would treat a person without the disability.

For the purpose of subsection (1), circumstances in which a person treats or would treat another person with a disability are not materially different because of the fact that different accommodation or services may be required by the person with a disability.

Sex Discrimination Act 1984

Objects the objects of this Act are:

- To give effect to certain provisions of the Convention on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination Against Women; and
- To eliminate, so far as is possible, discrimination against persons on the ground of sex, marital status, pregnancy or potential pregnancy in the areas of work, accommodation, education, the provision of goods, facilities and services, the disposal of land, the activities of clubs and the administration of Commonwealth laws and programs; and
- To eliminate, so far as possible discrimination involving dismissal of employees on the ground of family responsibilities; and
- To eliminate, so far as possible, discrimination involving sexual harassment in the workplace, in educational institutions and in other areas of public activity; and
- To promote recognition and acceptance within the community of the principle of the equality of men and women.

Age Discrimination Act 2004

The objects of this Act are:

- To eliminate, as far as possible, discrimination against persons on the ground of age in the areas of work, education, access to premises, the provision of goods, services and facilities, accommodation, the disposal of land, the administration of Commonwealth laws and programs and requests for information; and
- To ensure, as far as practicable, that everyone has the same rights to equality before the law, regardless of age, as the rest of the community; and
- To allow appropriate benefits and other assistance to be given to people of a certain age, particularly younger and older persons, in recognition of their particular circumstances; and
- To promote recognition and acceptance within the community of the principle that people of all ages have the same fundamental rights; and
- To respond to demographic change by:
 - Removing barriers to older people participating in society, particularly in the workforce; and
 - Changing negative stereotypes about older people.

Copyright Act 1968

Copyright is a type of property that is founded on a person's creative skill and labour. It is designed to prevent the unauthorised use by others of a work, in the original form in which an idea or information has been expressed by the creator.

Copyright is not a tangible thing. It is made up of a bundle of exclusive economic rights to do certain acts with an original work or other copyright subject-matter/ these rights include the right to copy, publish, communicate (e.g. broadcast, make available online) and publicly perform the copyright material.

There is no general exception that allows a work to be reproduced without infringing copyright. Where a part of a work is copied, the issue is whether a substantial part of that work has been reproduced and thus an infringement has occurred.

However, there is a 10% rule which applies in relation to fair dealing copying for the purpose of research or study. A reasonable portion of a work may be copied for that purpose, and a reasonable portion is deemed to be 10% of a book of more than 10 pages or 10% of the words or a work in electronic form.

Fair Work Act 2009

The main objectives of this act are to provide a balanced framework for cooperative and productive workplace relations that promote national economic prosperity and social inclusion for all Australians by;

Providing workplace relations laws that are fair to working Australians are flexible for businesses, promote productivity and economic growth for Australia's future economic prosperity and take into account Australia's international labour obligations;

Ensuring a guaranteed safety net of fair, relevant and enforceable minimum terms and conditions through the National Employment Standards, modern awards and national minimum wage orders;

Enabling fairness and representation at work and the prevention of discrimination by recognising the right to freedom of association and the right to be represented, protecting against unfair treatment and discrimination, providing accessible and effective procedures to resolve grievances and disputes and providing effective compliance mechanisms.

National Vocational Education and Training Regulator Act 2011

This legislation provides that basis for the regulation of Registered Training Organisations in Australia. The legislation provides the basis for the establishment of the National VET Regulator who are the registration authority for RTOs. A core component of this legislation is that it defines the condition for the registration of an RTO which include;

- Compliance with the VET Quality Framework
- Satisfying Fit and Proper Person Requirements
- Satisfying the Financial Viability Risk Assessment Requirements
- Notifying National VET Regulator of important changes
- Cooperating with National VET Regulator
- Compliance with directions given by the National Vet Regulator

Schedule of Fees and Charges

Absolute Forklift Training is a Registered Training Organisation and operates in accordance with applicable legislation and is entitled to charge fees for services provided to a student undertaking a course of study. These fees are for items such as course materials, administrative support, student services and training and assessment services. We review our fees schedule regularly and endeavour to keep the cost of training down.

When and how do I pay?

Two day course – A $245 deposit must be paid upon booking your course. Payment methods include Visa, MasterCard, and direct deposit. Payment details are emailed upon request.

Experienced, Weekend and Evening courses

- Full payment must be made upon booking your course. Payment methods include Visa, MasterCard, and direct deposit. Payment details are emailed upon request.

Can I get a refund?

If you give more than three working days notice prior to the commencement of your course, you will be entitled to a refund minus a charge of $50 for your training materials.

If you give notice to cancel your enrolment less than 3 business days prior to the commencement of a program your $245 deposit will not be refunded. This is to cover the costs of staff and resources which will have already been committed based on our initial intention to undertake the training.

If you give notice to cancel your enrolment after a training program has commenced, you will not be entitled to a refund of fees. Discretion may be exercised by the Chief Executive Officer if there are extenuating or significant personal circumstance that led to your withdrawal.

How do I get a refund?

To obtain a refund you are required to give written notice to cancel your enrolment and complete a refund request form. Written notice may be in the form of an email or letter. Where refunds are approved, the refund payment will be paid via electronic funds transfer using the authorized bank account nominated by you. This payment will be made within 14 days from the time you gave written notice to cancel your enrolment. Are my fees protected in case I need a refund? Yes, Absolute Forklift Training acknowledges that it has a responsibility to protect the fees paid by students prior to the commencement of their training. All courses offered by Absolute Forklift Training are less than the $1000 specified by the National Skills Standards Council.

Do I pay GST in my tuition fees?

No, GST is exempt under section 38-85 GSTR 2003/1 Goods and Services Tax, tax ruling. The ruling explains the supply of a course for 'professional or trade course' is a GST-free education course.

Our Guarantee to you

Absolute Forklift Training is committed to deliver quality training and assessment and will work with students who require individual assistance to successfully complete the training program. If for any reason Absolute Forklift Training is unable to fulfil its service agreement with a student, Absolute Forklift Training will refund the student's fees.

Please refer to the Student Information Booklet for further information on all student rights and obligations.
