

BANGALOW A. & I. SOCIETY SILENT FILM COMPETITION

In October of 1913, the Bangalow Show Society bought a "thoroughly up-to-date" cinematograph or 'moving picture plant' for three hundred pounds. The Show Society held Picture Shows in the A. & I. Hall on a regular basis for many years, as a fundraiser for the Show. These would have been silent films until the advent of 'talkies' in the late 1920's.

This year is the 116th annual Bangalow Show, and the theme is '1915 the Home Front'.

To both celebrate that very innovative decision by the Committee and to introduce an exciting new event as part of our theme, the Bangalow Show Society is holding a Silent Film Competition.

Film makers of all ages the opportunity to take part, to tell a story that can be universally understood, no dialogue! and ONLY THREE MINUTES long!

The rules & guidelines are simple:

Format -mpeg

Ensure all content is your own

Must be suitable for viewing by all ages - family friendly

May be either black & white or colour

Film may be animated

Film must have at least three title cards - an Intro card (with film title, film-makers name), at least one in the middle and one at the end (credits)

Genre suggestions - Slapstick, Horror, Drama, Mystery, Science Fiction

Selected entries will be screened during the Bangalow Show, Friday 20th November 2015 in the Moller Pavilion.

Judges will be selecting winning entries based on four categories: Story, Cinematography, Editing and Acting. All judges decisions are final.
